FROM KOBE TO CAIRO IN COLOR SLIDES will be the subject of twenty-six year old Richard E. Burwell when he lectures at The Cleveland Museum of Art on Sunday December 16 at 3:45 p.m. A native Clevelander, Burwell is now in New York as a radio newswriter for the American Broadcasting Company.

In his Museum lecture Burwell will describe with color slides his recent travels through India, Nepal, Kashmir, Afghanistan, Iran and the Middle East, illustrating what can be seen in this exotic part of the globe with "little money, little time and good shoes."

Burwell was graduated from St. Paul's School, Harvard College and Merton College, Oxford. Before joining the American Broadcasting Company, he was in Tokyo with the United States Army, Psychological Warfare Division.

His Museum lecture is open free to the public.
